DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 27, 49, 51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Li.

Li, figs. 3-5 and related text in paragraphs [0027]-[0039] teaches the claimed memory cells comprising at least one pillar of stacked material layer on a semiconductor substrate (paragraph [0035]), the stacked layers in fig. 3D and related text in paragraph [0033] comprising a first electrode 303 and chalcogenide glass material 307 having metal (silver) ions diffused therein in contact with the first electrode 305 and being capable of changing resistance under the influence of an applied voltage, a metal material 309/308 comprises silver in contact with the chalcogenide glass material 307, and a second electrode 315 in contact with the metal material 309/308, the at least one pillar not located within a via. See also fig. 5 and related text in paragraph [0038].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 50 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Li in view of Campbell et al..

Li et al., figs. 3-5 and related text in paragraphs [0027]-[0039] teaches the claimed memory cells as explained above except using silver rather than tungsten for electrodes

Campbell et al., in a related art as disclosed in paragraph [0032], teaches the use of either tungsten or silver to form electrode of the resistance variable memory cells.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have replaced silver with tungsten for forming electrode as suggested by Campbell et al. in Li et al. memory cell structure since the substitution of art recognized equivalent are within the level of those skilled in the art.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
